

Year 9: Friday 1st March

LO: to translate prepositions using the ablative case from English into Latin

For each of the following sentences, translate from English into Latin, taking care to check the cases of nouns very carefully indeed.

1. I am walking with the friend.
2. The sailors are hurrying down from the temple.
3. I work with the farmer.
4. Who is walking in the water?
5. The women are hurrying out of the island.
6. The farmers are not working in the fields.
7. Boys sing about/concerning the girls.
8. The slave girls walk away from the inhabitants.